Freud's theory of identity is based on a radical notion of the conflict model. The conflict model views the self as unified. It is singular identity. The self is composed of several competing elements, which for Freud is the Id, Ego

So far this resource has explored some of the different ways artists have used the human figure as a subject in their art. But some artists use their own – or other people's – bodies directly as the medium or material for their art. For performance artists the artwork is created through actions performed by the artist or other participants ...
